

GDPR RIGHTS DEMYSTIFIED

GET DATA PROTECTION RIGHT

2040
training

WHAT IS THIS COURSE?

One of the most important aims of the GDPR is to even up the power imbalance between individuals and organisations. GDPR rights give a person the tools they need to access, rectify, erase and restrict their data, and gives them the ability to control and object to the use of their data in some circumstances

These are powerful rights, and every organisation needs to be ready to respond. This course will teach you what you need to know to prepare for and respond to whatever applicants throw at you

NEW RIGHTS

Nobody can be certain what people will do with their rights under GDPR. Some predict an avalanche of requests, others expect little to change. The truth about that is less important than the fact that the status quo presents plenty of challenges, and there is never a bad time to get to grips with subject rights. Not all of the rights are new, and so court precedents and previous ICO practice is still an important thing to understand. To deal with them you need to understand your data and put together robust and effective processes to handle them.

FIVE THINGS THAT YOU'LL GET ON THIS COURSE:

- 1) Years of experience boiled down into one day
- 2) A clear guide to drafting procedures to handle GDPR requests
- 3) Jargon-free advice about how to deal with challenging issues
- 4) Space to ask questions about your specific concerns
- 5) Support after the course

WHAT OTHER DELEGATES THOUGHT:

“Really good, strong subject knowledge and use of examples / opinions which help things hit home”

“Tim is very knowledgeable. His enthusiasm makes the course much more enjoyable”
